Dying Beside Railroad Track. David Flynn, an itinerant mill worker at Wareham, was found Monday, in a dying condition, beside the railroad track, between Central Village and Wareham, where he is understood to have been since Sunday with a party of friends. Flynn died during the afternoon, the body being taken in charge by a Central Village undertaker.

Entering Class at Least Eighty. It is now estimated that the entering class of Killingly High school will number at least 80, and may be considerably over that number. In the towns of Killingly and Brooklyn alone 50 pupils have qualified to enter the high school either by passing the examinations or by certification. From other towns there are qualified pupils to swell the total of those eligible to enter to over 100, but not all qualified to take up the high school course.

FUNERAL

Mrs. Jeanette C. Sanders. At the Union Baptist church in East Killingly Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock a funeral service for Jeanette Culley Sanders was conducted by Rev. E. A. Blake, D. D. Burial was in the Slater burying ground, in the eastern section of the town. Mrs. Sanders, long a resident here, died at her home in the Elliotville section of Killingly. Louis E. Kennedy was the funeral director.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Oscar Stillwell. At her home near the Sparks distaff school, Mrs. Annie L. Stillwell, wife of Oscar Stillwell, died Monday afternoon. She was born in 1851, the daughter of Eden and Fannie Corey Aldrich and during the greater part of her life had been a resident of this town. She leaves her husband, two sons, Raymond and Eden, both of this town; three sisters, Mrs. S. S. Stone, Mrs. W. J. Young, Mrs. Edith Plisco, and a brother Levi Aldrich, all of Danielson.

Mrs. Alphonse Lambert. Mrs. Celeste Lambert, 78, wife of Alphonse Lambert, died at their home in the West Side after a long illness. Frank Stefano, Surrendered by Bondsman, Surprised When Taken by Capt. Ryan—West Woodstock Motorist Fined—Moosup Team Secured for Sunday Game—Rectors Who Will Supply at St. Philip's Church.

Following a request by his bondsman that his bond be surrendered and that Frank Stefano be taken into custody, Captain Joseph A. Ryan took the young man when he appeared here Tuesday, shortly after noon, and locked him up at the police station preparatory to his transfer to Brooklyn jail.

Stefano is the man who is being held for trial at the September term of the superior court, to face a charge of having been connected with the burglary at Diamond's store, Elm street, about a year ago.

He was brought here last month at the expiration of a term he was serving in the Worcester county jail, at Worcester, given a hearing before Judge L. H. Fuller and probable cause was found for holding him for trial.

His bond was fixed at $500, and it was furnished by his father, who lives at Dudley, Mass., and his brother-in-law, Frank Stimpka, Mechanicsville, put up the surety. The understanding was that Stefano would go to work, one special object being to pay back $150 to square himself in a way with the proprietor of the Diamond store, although Stefano claims that he did not actually take part in the break at the store, he being awakened, according to his story, while at the round-house in the local railroad yards and asked to help carry away the loot from the Diamond store.

Stefano went to Mechanicsville and worked a day after his release and accused of disregarding every precaution for the protection of others. It is not difficult to imagine that the next step to be taken by those who are complaining about racing driving in great numbers is an appeal to the state police for action and the reporting of speeders' numbers to the secretary of state, with a demand for the suspension of their licenses.

From the West Side also comes complaints against the high speed boys. Grand Juror W. E. Koch said Tuesday afternoon that he has received a number of complaints against particular drivers, and that if the speeding doesn't stop petitions will be signed and forwarded to the secretary of state, asking that the licenses of these drivers be revoked.

A local motorcycleist was fined in Brooklyn for speedy driving.

REACTED AND REAFFIRMED. Special Town Meeting Ratifies Vote of June 19th Concerning $75,000 Town Bonds.

Charles A. Potter was chairman at the special town meeting Tuesday afternoon, when the following votes, relative to Killingly's bond issue, were passed by the dozen voters who made up the gathering:

Resolved that the following vote of the selectmen and members of the Town of Killingly, acting as a committee upon preparation, advertising and sale of the improvement 4-1-4 per cent. serial bonds, which vote was adopted by said committee July 25th, 1916, and reported to this meeting, be ratified, approved, confirmed and adopted by the Town of Killingly.

Resolved that sealed bids for the purchase of $75,000 of the Town of Killingly, Conn., Improvement 4-1-4 "Serial Bonds" by the Town of Killingly, Conn., be received until 12 noon, Tuesday, August 15th, said bids to be addressed "Treasury Town of Killingly, care of Charles A. Potter, Chairman, Committee on Bonds," said bonds to be issued in coupon form in the denomination of $1,000 each, dated July 1, 1916; that of such bonds being payable on the first day of July in each of the years 1917 to 1931 inclusive, and three of said bonds being payable on the first day of July in each of the years 1932 to 1946 inclusive, with interest payable semi-annually on the first days of January and July until maturity; principal and interest to be payable at the Merchants National Bank, Boston, Mass., or at the Danielson Trust Company, Danielson, Conn., the bonds to be printed under the supervision of and certified as to genuineness by the Merchants National Bank, Boston, Mass., and their legality approved by Messrs. Story, Thorndike, Palmer and Dodge of Boston, Mass.; no bids to be considered for less than par value, and no bids to be received or reserved to reject any and all bids.

Resolved that the issue of $75,000 Town of Killingly Improvement Bonds, to be dated July 1st, 1916, with interest at a rate not to exceed 4-1-4 per cent. per annum, voted under the General Statutes, Section 1931, at a special town meeting held June 19th, 1916, be made payable as follows: $2,000 of said issue to be payable upon July 1st in each of the years 1917 to 1931 inclusive, and $3,000 of said bonds to be payable upon July 1st in each of the years 1932 to 1946 inclusive, and be it further

Resolved that the said vote of the town authorizing said issue of $75,000 Town of Killingly Improvement Bonds, passed at said special town meeting held June 19th, 1916, be and hereby is re-acted and reaffirmed.

Moosup Coming for Sunday Game. Moosup is to be here next Sunday to furnish the opposition to Putnam at the baseball game to be played on the old fairgrounds. After the clean-up at North Grosvenor last Sunday, the local management is anxious that Moosup provide a fast team, for the regular and exceedingly fast Putnam lineup will be on the job.

It was announced here Tuesday that either Crum or Peckham, Providence, will do the twirling for the visitors, with Anderson or Solomon as the choice of catchers. The Putnam battery may include Fisher of New York, or the old reliable McLaughlin, just which will pitch has not been decided.

Probable Bargain Rush for Cars. When Uncle Henry made his sweeping price cut announcement there was a furore in automobile circles in Putnam, Tuesday. The quotation of a $350 for touring cars, $245 for roadsters, set the youth of the city on their ears, for at these figures many young men who heretofore could not afford a car allowed that the price on buzz wagons had at last come within their reach. There were others, too, who were greatly interested in the announcement which proved the real premier topic of conversation for the day.

Rectors to Supply at St. Philip's Church. Rev. C. J. Harriman leaves next week for Plattsburg, where he will be a member of the preparedness camp that opens August 10. During his absence the supplies at St. Philip's church will be as follows: August 13, Rev. A. W. E. Carrington, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Aug. 20, Rev. J. W. Walker, Philadelphia, formerly minister in charge at St. Philip's. During the absence of Rev. Mr. Harriman, Rev. P. S. Irwin will be available for those who desire his services as a minister of the church.

This resulted in uneasiness as to where he might be when wanted for trial next month, so his brother-in-law asked that he be taken into custody and his bondsman released from responsibility for his appearance.

Stefano was very much surprised when taken into custody Tuesday. He hadn't been informed by his relatives of what they were about to do and he was somewhat peeved over the action. He told Captain Ryan that he had just gone to work in a Putnam mill.

TIPPED OVER AUTOMOBILE. Loren Bosworth of West Woodstock Pays $3 in City Court.

In the city court Tuesday morning Loren Bosworth, West Woodstock, was fined $2 for having been intoxicated and $1 costs, which he paid. Bosworth got into court after he had tipped over a light automobile in which he was riding toward Woodstock, on Woodstock avenue.

When the accident came to the attention of the police an investigation was started and Bosworth was arrested. He did not appear badly under the influence of liquor and after his appearance in court and some tinkering had been done on the car, he proceeded toward Woodstock with the machine.
